Student Organization Policy about Anti-Hazing:

Hazing is forbidden by University regulations and laws of the State of Missouri. Hazing is defined by Missouri law as “any willful act, occurring on or off the campus of an educational institution, directed against a student or a prospective member of an organization operating under the sanction of an educational institution, that recklessly endangers the mental or physical health or safety of a student or prospective member for the purpose of initiation or admission into or continued membership in any such organization to the extent that such person is knowingly placed at probable risk of the loss of life or probable bodily or psychological harm.” Please reference Section (17) of the Student Organization Policies for what would be considered acts of hazing.

Individual members of organizations, groups, teams, and/or chapters who violate policy are subject to disciplinary action as outlined by the Standard of Conduct for Recognized Student Organizations. We understand that violating the Missouri S&T Hazing policy may result in a judicial hearing for the chapter through Community Standards and Student Conduct.

We understand that if we falsify information to Missouri S&T concerning our chapter, ___________________ is subject to strict disciplinary sanctions by the Community Standards and Student Conduct. In addition, we affirm that our new member program activities do not conflict with those policies set forth by our (Inter)National organization. We have read the information concerning hazing and the new member program, and agree to abide by the policies, procedure, and expectations set forth by the Office of Fraternity and Sorority Life, Student Life, Missouri University of Science and Technology, State of Missouri, and our (Inter)National headquarters.

This form has been read to all members of the chapter and we understand the policies outlined and agree to adhere as described.

How to Utilize your (Inter)National Headquarters

One of the benefits of being affiliated with an inter/national fraternity or sorority is that you have an infinite amount of resources at your fingertips! The staff and volunteers that work for the inter/national organization are available to provide you with guidance, support, resources, answers to various questions and to ensure that your chapter is doing everything it should to uphold the values and principles of your organization. Here are a few suggestions on ways to build relationships with the staff/volunteers that work with your chapter and to become knowledgeable about the resources provided.

1. Call or email your Headquarters to introduce yourself. Make sure they know who the president is for the Missouri S&T chapter and that you are committed to your position.
2. Review your website for any manuals, policies, resources and contact information – make sure the appropriate materials get to each officer and chairperson.
3. Visit your Headquarters if possible to take a tour or conduct initiation or a meeting there.
4. Ask your Headquarters to assist you with putting on a chapter retreat or setting chapter goals. They have lots of resources that can make these events effective.
5. Maintain regular contact with your Headquarters and keep them up-to-date on the successes and challenges your chapter is facing.
6. Utilize the chapter consultant from Headquarters to your advantage. They are a wealth of knowledge and resources so put them to the test.
7. Document the areas of struggle for the chapter and talk them over with your Headquarters or chapter consultant. With their help you can develop an action plan to address those areas.

How often do you contact your Headquarters?

What are the reasons you contact Headquarters?

Do you know what resources your Headquarters provides to assist chapters in striving toward excellence?

Does your Headquarters provide scholarships for members? If so are you fellow brothers/sisters aware of these scholarships?

Such activities may include but are not limited to the following: use of alcohol, paddling in any form, creation of excessive fatigue, physical and psychological shocks, quests, treasure hunts, scavenger hunts, road trips or any other such activities carried on outside or inside of the confines of the chapter house; wearing of public apparel which is

Party Planning Basics

Invite People Who Care

A sure way to bore members or ruin a party is to have the wrong people attend. Other common problems that the wrong people can cause include damage and theft of property and irresponsible behavior that causes neighbor relations problems.

There is one sure way to try and avoid these problems. Do not hold any open parties. An FIPG chapter holds parties by invitation only to a pre-determined number of guests. A ratio of two guests per member (or fire code capacity, whichever is smaller) is suggested. The assumption here is that members and their personal guests will be responsible to the chapter leadership and that poor behavior can be controlled.

Be aware that the majority of claims occur during open parties. The more people present, especially guests that chapter members do not know or have any control over, the more likely incidents such as fights, sexual assaults, underage drinking, and alcohol poisoning will occur.

Where to Party

Pick a place that allows everyone to move around and mingle, but not so large you are lost in the room. Make sure adequate seating is available. If your chapter house does not meet your needs, or your policy says it may not be used for parties, look at renting a party room or local hall or hotel.

Make a Check List for Basic Safety Considerations

Are there potentially dangerous areas that should be secured, or equipment and other items to remove, or that require closely supervised use?

Is interior and exterior lighting satisfactory?

Is there safe and adequate parking?

When your party is held at a distance from campus or in an out-of-the way or unusual place, consider providing transportation. At least have volunteers to assist guests and members, and provide designated drives or a shuttle service.

Many FIPG members recommend and may require that you hold your party at an establishment that has a liquor license. The establishment becomes responsible for providing, handling, and serving alcoholic beverages. The liability is therefore transferred to the establishment, and its bartenders are responsible for any guests who may become intoxicated. To be safe, have a written contract stating that responsibility for all service of alcoholic beverages rests entirely with the establishment, and do not allow members to serve or provide any alcoholic beverages.

When to Party

Avoid scheduling parties when you don't have time to make proper plans or your members and guest really shouldn't take time to attend (e.g., during exam time). Be sure you are aware of campus party planning policies before you begin to plan. Check with the Interfraternity Council, Panhellenic Council and Greek Independent Board.

Certain occasions call for parties and the events speak for themselves – Homecoming, Founders’ Day, holidays. What they have in common is a theme. For other parties, choose a theme (being aware of sensitivity issues).
Choosing Food and Drink

Food and drinks are important because they complement fun, not because they supply fun. To get the most out of your food and drink budget, match refreshments with the occasion and crowd. Non-alcoholic party drinks can be attractive and can fit in very well with your theme. Use opaque plastic cups so a person is free to drink what he/she prefers.

Be sure to always serve snacks – light sandwiches, dips, meats, cheeses, pizza. In choosing food, avoid salty items like chips and popcorn. Solid foods that are high in protein do more than satisfy the appetite – they help reduce the effects of alcohol.

Bring Your Own Events

Plan activities for your party. The more there is to do other than drink, the less people will drink – and your party will be a success. Remember, drinking games are strictly prohibited by the FIPG Risk Management Policy, and should not be permitted.

Assign monitors who will not drink and who will be responsible for making decisions at the party. No one should have the authority to override their judgment. In all cases, at least one Executive Board Officer should be a sober monitor at each function. Additionally, pledges should not be assigned to act as monitors. This is a position of authority and responsibility. The monitors will deal with those whose behavior deteriorates. Party monitors should check IDs, mark of-age drinkers in some distinctive manner, watch entrances and exits, check car and other motor vehicle keys at the door, and be responsible for maintaining a degree of decorum at the party. They should be available to assist bartenders who need to refuse serving members or guests and to make sure the bar is closed on time. Members and guests should not be allowed to re-enter the party after leaving.

Pre-Parties

Pre-parties and “spontaneous events” will likely fall under the rules of a fraternity function. Here are some questions to ask yourself:

1. Is the pre-party on chapter premises or the location of the actual party?
2. Is the pre-party/spontaneous party hosted by a member of the fraternity/sorority?
3. Are half of the people in attendance members of the chapter?
4. Is half of the chapter in attendance?
5. Was the pre-party/spontaneous party discussed at a chapter meeting?
6. Is the party in any way funded by the chapter?
7. Would someone be likely to perceive the pre-party as a chapter event?

If you answered “yes” to any of these questions, then you must follow FIPG Policy for the event. In any case, FIPG Policy exists to assist in keep our friends, members, and guests safe. Follow the policy no matter what or where the event is any you will be happy when everyone is safe.
Hosting a Party with some Common Sense

Host a Closed Party

- Members, pledges, and dates.
- Limit guests to one couple per member.
- Have a guest list.
- An open invitation to “anyone who wants to come” puts you in a potentially dangerous situation. Having no notion of the number, ages, or personalities of your guests could cause unwanted problems.

Appoint Party Monitors

- Oversee the party to make sure all attending are well behaved.
- Agree not to consume alcohol that evening.
- Act as sober hosts who agree to make sure the party starts and ends on time and that the bar opens and closes on time.
- Check all car and other motor vehicle keys at door as party begins.

Do Not Sell Alcohol

- Charging for admission or a cup and then providing alcohol is no different than selling by the drink.
- The chapter cannot provide alcohol under any circumstances, even if it is served free to members and guests.
- Do not allow undergraduates or alumni to establish bar tabs for the event.

REMEMBER:

- Check IDs at the door and identify those over the legal drinking age in some unique way, such as wrist bracelets
- It is advisable to hire professional security
- Serve non-alcoholic beverages and display them attractively
- Use same cups for alcoholic and non-alcoholic drinks so everyone feels comfortable
- Set starting time and ending time for the party
- Do not permit drinking games
- Monitor the intoxicated
- Stay with the person
- Call Campus Police if you are unsure of what to do
- Be a responsible host
- If you invite a guest, you are responsible for controlling his or her behavior
- Do not allow bottles
- You are responsible for anyone that comes into your house, invited or uninvited

BE PREPARED FOR ALL SITUATIONS
Sexual Assault, and Harassment

Sexual Assault

1. A chapter will not tolerate or condone any form of sexist or sexually abusive behavior on the part of its members, whether physical, mental, or emotional. This is to include any actions that are demeaning to men or women, including but not limited to rape, gang rape, sexual assault and verbal harassment.

2. A chapter will not sponsor or participate in any activity, including competitive games and philanthropic endeavors, that is abusive or demeaning to human beings.

3. A chapter will educate its members on the issue of sexual assault.

FAQs

Why should we be concerned about sexual assault?

Legal liability is a reality in sexual abuse incidents. It is possible that a victim of sexual abuse or rape may be able to sue the perpetrator, even though criminal charges are not filed or are dismissed. The chapter, chapter officers, and others may be sued if an incident of sexual assault occurs at a chapter function. Being a victim of sexual assault can be a very emotional and traumatic experience. Therefore, it is important to support and not isolate and/or blame anyone who may have been the victim of sexual assault.

What is rape?

Rape is sex you don’t agree to, including forcing a body part or an object into your vagina, rectum, or mouth. In the United States, 1 in 6 women reported experiencing rape or attempted rape at some time in their lives.

What is sexual assault?

Any type of sexual activity that a person does not agree to, including:

- Rape or attempted rape
- Touching your body or making you touch someone else
- Someone watching or photographing you in sexual situations
- Someone exposing his/her body to you

Sometimes, sexual violence is committed by a stranger. Most often, though, it is committed by someone you know, including a date or an intimate partner like a husband, ex-husband, or boyfriend. Sexual violence is always wrong, and a person who is sexually abused does not ever “cause” the attack. Keep in mind that there are times when a person is not able to agree to sex, such as if they are drunk or have been drugged, or if they are underage.

Quick Note:

Men are also often victims of rape and sexual assault. In fact, in the United States, about 10% of all victims are male. This percentage is merely based on the cases reported. In fact there are many cases of sexual assault and/or rape on both women and men each year that go unreported.
There are many types of sexual assault. Recognize that sexually abusive behavior occurs on a continuum ranging from harassment to unwanted sexual touching to forced penetration. Sexual assault usually falls into two categories, verbal and physical.

Verbal abuse may include:
- Whistling
- Humor and jokes about sex or male/female specific traits
- Suggestive or insulting sounds
- Sexual innuendos about you or someone else’s personal appearance
- Demands for sexual favors accompanied by implied or overt threats
- Suggestive post on social media

Physical abuse may include:
- Obscene gestures
- Staring suggestively
- Any inappropriate touching, pinching, or patting
- Brushing against someone else’s body
- Coerced sexual intercourse
- assault
Hazing Concerns and Myths

Education Is Our Goal

The purpose of fraternity education is just that—education about the fraternity, about the chapter and about the college or university. It is education about past and present members of the fraternity, and it is education about what makes a good member. The goal of fraternity education is to develop the future leaders of the chapter. It is the responsibility of every member to educate in a constructive and harmless way. Each member must watch out for new members, whether pledged member, new or provisional in nature. It is the responsibility of every member to see that the anti-hazing standards of their national organization, the university, and state law is not violated.

Areas of Concern

The senseless act of hazing not only creates liability risk for the chapter and the entire fraternity, but also hinders the development of friendships that are the basis of brotherhood and sisterhood.

In recent years, a number of states have enacted laws that make hazing an illegal act, MO INCLUDED. This means that, in those states, a lawsuit resulting from a hazing activity might exclude insurance coverage for members who were aware of or condoned a hazing activity. This exclusion would result because you cannot be insured for an illegal act.

Therefore, hazing carries a number of risks, including:

1. A civil lawsuit
2. Criminal prosecution for an illegal act
3. Discipline by the fraternity
4. Discipline by the college or university; and
5. Possible loss of insurance coverage

BUT WHAT WE DO IS NOT HAZING

Beauty is in the eye of the beholder. So is hazing. What you may consider to be a perfectly harmless way of making your pledged members learn their lessons in education, may, in the view of others, be an act of violence that can be criminal.

The role of the undergraduate chapter is to see that the education process is both enjoyable and rewarding, not only for the new members, but also for the active members. This calls for a precise agenda for membership education, including a list of activities and dates and times. New and old members can participate in any acidity, and by being knowledgeable, get more out of the activities and the educational experience.

Where Hazing Begins

Answer these questions about each activity in your pledge/new member education program. If there is one question that has a negative answer, then you know that this activity should be eliminated.

Is this activity an education experience?
Does this activity promote and conform to the ideal and values of the fraternity?
Will this activity increase the new members’ respect for the fraternity and the members of the chapter?
Is it an activity that pledged and initiated members participate in together?
Would you be willing to allow parents to witness this activity? A judge? The Chancellor of the University?
Does the activity have value in and of itself?
Would you be able to defend it in the court of law?
Does the activity meet both the spirit and letter of the standards prohibiting hazing?
MYTH #1: As long as there’s no malicious intent, a little hazing should be O.K.

Fact: Even if there’s no malicious “intent” safety may still be a factor in traditional hazing activities that are considered to be “all in good fun.” For example, serious accidents have occurred during scavenger hunts and kidnapping trips. Besides, what purpose do such activities serve in promoting the growth and development of group team members?

MYTH #2: Hazing is an effective way to teach respect and develop discipline.

Fact: First of all, respect must be EARNED – not taught. Victims of hazing rarely report having respect for those who have hazed them. Just like other forms of victimization, hazing breeds mistrust, apathy, and alienation.

MYTH #3: If someone agrees to participate in an activity, it can’t be considered hazing.

Fact: In states that have laws against hazing consent of the victim can’t be used as a defense in a civil suit. This is because even if someone agrees to participate in a potentially hazardous action it may not be true consent when considering the peer pressure and desire to belong to the group.

Make the following inquiries of each activity to determine whether or not it is hazing.

1. Is alcohol involved?
2. Will active/current members of the group refuse to participate with the new members and do exactly what they’re being asked to do, whether they did it as new members or not?
3. Does the activity risk emotional or physical abuse?
4. Is there risk of injury or a question of safety?
5. Do you have any reservations describing this activity to your parents, to a professor, or University official?
6. Would you object to the activity being photographed for the school newspaper or filmed by the local TV news crew?

How to Change Fraternity Education

There always is resistance to change. No matter how imminent the danger or how great the risk, some are always opposed to change. With the fraternity education process it is no different. People will still ask questions and make statements such as:

“We’ve never had any problems or gotten in trouble.”

“What is this fraternity going to be like?”

“This is not the same fraternity that I joined.”

“They’re just doing what I did, and I liked it.”

“It is necessary in order to respect the organization and what it means to be a member.”
Alternatives to Hazing

Of course, if you try to eliminate hazing your organization, you will likely encounter many elaborate reasons for why this will be devastating for your group. While there will be some staunch supporters of the status quo, there will be many who can be convinced of the negative effects and potential risks of hazing. Believers in the supposed “benefits” of hazing may be more likely to change their opinion if they can envision some alternatives. The supposed “benefits” of hazing follow in italics with non-hazing alternatives to accomplish the same goal listed alongside.

Some specific means to eliminate hazing and make pledge ship a challenging, positive experience:

1. Develop chapter unity of both pledged and initiated members:

   Involve pledged members on chapter committees, attend chapter meetings, hold sports events with mixed teams of pledged and initiated members and have an all chapter/pledge class retreat. Clean the chapter room together.

2. Promote scholarship

   Take advantage of university academic and tutoring services, designate quiet hours on your chapter's halls, invite university speakers to discuss test-taking skills, study methods, etc.

3. Develop problem-solving abilities

   Have pledged members discuss chapter weaknesses such as poor rush, apathy, and poor scholarship. These solutions should be shared with the initiated members. The pledge class should then be involved in the implementation.

4. Develop social skills

   Hold a seminar on table etiquette and other social graces; plan a seminar with college resources on effective communication skills, body language, eye contact, and other aspects of communicating

5. Instill a sense of brotherhood and sisterhood

   Plan special events when the entire chapter gets together, e.g., attend a movie, play, professional sports game, etc.

6. Build awareness of chapter history

   Invite an older alumna or alumnus to talk about the chapter’s early days, its founding, special chapter traditions, and prominent alumnae or alumni
7. Develop leadership

Assign each pledged member to a chapter committee. Expect the pledge class to plan and implement its own activities. Encourage participation in campus activities outside of the sorority or fraternity. Have the pledge class elect their own officers.

8. Develop knowledge of the Greek system

Invite the Greek Independent Board, Interfraternity, National Pan-Hellenic, Panhellenic President’s or the Greek Advisor to speak on the Greek system, covering the purposes of fraternities and sororities, the regulations they formulate, and the goals and expectations of the Greek system.

9. Aid career goals

Use college resources for seminars on resume writing, internships, the job search, job interview skills; invite different alumnae or alumni to speak on various careers.

10. Involve pledge members in the community

Visit a nursing home or youth center to sing, play games, or just talk; get involved with the community.

11. Improve relations with other Greeks

Have new member classes get together to plan joint social or service activities; pledged members plan cook-out with another pledge class, followed by a sports activity (softball, volleyball, etc.)

Remember: The best pledge education activities are those wherein the pledges and the chapter members are working together in the activity.
Housing

All chapter houses shall, prior to, during, and following occupancy, meet all local fire and health codes and standards.

All chapters must have posted by common phones/areas emergency numbers for fire, police, and ambulance, and must have evacuation routes from chapter houses posted in the common areas and on the back of the door in each sleeping room.

A safe house is our goal

The responsibility of maintaining a safe and positive learning environment for chapter members is a concern. Our goal in the area of chapter housing must be to make sure that all who live in our chapters houses are protected to the best of our ability.

The responsibility of meeting our housing goals rests with chapter members working in close cooperation with local property- holding alumnae/alumni corporation. The policies and standards that we establish to meet this goal become a risk management program.

Areas of concern

Two major areas of concern have been shown to cause liability and property loss problems for fraternities/sororities: fire safety and house maintenance. In both areas, a responsible risk management program can lessen the probability of causing damage to the chapter house.

Fire safety suggestions

Managing our risk requires all alumnae/alumni and chapter members to set high standards for the safety of our houses. In no area of house operations is this more important than in the area of fire safety.

1. Establish a “no smoking” policy. Ban smoking in bed and establish other non-smoking areas. Provide plenty of ashtrays in designated smoking areas.

2. Do not overload circuits. Prohibit the use of extension cords, multi-outlet devices, etc. Use power strips, preferably with surge protectors in their place when necessary. Do not permit members to install their own custom wiring.

3. Hold regular fire drills. Plan, design and post your emergency evacuation plans inside each bedroom door.

4. Keep the chapter house clean. Avoid keeping flammable materials in the house. Extra clutter, such as paper, boxes and clothing, provide fuel for a fire.
Crisis Management

In the event of a fire, serious injury, death, or other crisis the chapter president must handle the situation and maintain calm and clear thinking among other members. These procedures are provided as guidelines. Chapters should consult their National organization’s crisis management plan and adapt this plan as needed. It has been adapted from various national organizations’ plans.

Definition of Crisis:

- Drug overdose;
- Medical emergency;
- An accident resulting in severe or fatal injuries;
- A member attempting or committing suicide;
- A fire or explosion in the chapter facility;
- Police arresting a chapter member at the chapter facility;
- Substantial damage to the chapter facility caused by a storm, flood, tornado, or earthquake;
- Deliberate damage to the chapter facility from malicious mischief, sabotage, or a riot;
- Chapter member, members, or the entire chapter being accused of violating local, state, Federal, or University laws, rules or regulations.

Each Semester:

- Update numbers, emails and contact information for all members, campus resources and advisors in your cell phone and on paper
- Keep a hard copy of the most updated roster of members; also note anyone with ADA (Americans with Disabilities Act) needs to be provided to emergency personal in case of a fire.
- Review the plan with members and new members
- Provide a copy of your crisis management plan to all members and new members. It should include contact information.
- Host practices and drills (i.e. fire drills and case studies for a crisis situation)
- Provide your plan to parents, advisors, and the Office of Fraternity and Sorority Life
- Make sure your contact information is up to date with your inter/national organization
- Update list of members who have medical knowledge (i.e. first aid certified, CPR, nursing, EMT, etc.) in the event of an emergency during a chapter event
In the Event of a Crisis

Procedures to be followed by the Chapter President in an event of an emergency or tragedy

There are several recommended steps to follow in the event of a tragedy, with some additional steps to follow in the event of a death of one of your members or new members.

1. Who is in charge during an emergency?

   Be certain that each person in your chapter knows that you as president are in command of every emergency situation involving serious injury or death from the fraternity aspect. However, your authority does not supersede that of a uniformed officer. In your absence, have a ranking order of officers established and be sure they know where to find this written procedure. You should already have arranged with your chapter advisor and housing corporation president as to how they are to be notified.

2. If a tragedy occurs:

   If a tragedy has occurred within your chapter, close the house at once. You cannot give instructions if your members are leaving and strangers are entering. Permit only your members and appropriate officials to enter.

3. Emergency phone calls to make – and numbers:

   You need to make several phone calls immediately.

   - First: The campus police and/or the local emergency number (i.e. Fire Department and Rolla Police Department). If the emergency situation is a fire, your alarms may or may not automatically bring a fire truck; therefore, immediately call the fire department. Always call the campus police first!
   - Second: Call your inter/national fraternity’s administrative office
     Call your chapter advisor
     Call your corporation president
     Call your risk management advisor
   - Third: Call your Greek Advisor. In most cases your Greek Advisor will be notified by Campus Police, but we recommend you calling us as well.

4. Informing members; making public statements:

   Assemble your members in a group. Depending on the situation, out-of-house members may need to be called in. It is important that all members remain calm during the crisis. Explain to them that there is an emergency situation and that the house is closed. Ask them to cooperate in halting outgoing phone calls until the situation is under control. Do not discuss the situation until the National Representative, chapter advisor, or housing corporation president arrives. Instruct your members to make no statements to anyone other than fraternity/sorority officials. As the president, you make any appropriate statements to the media after the situation is under control and you have discussed the content of your statement with school and fraternity/sorority officials and have been given permission by the National Office. Make sure, however, that everyone knows what your statements will be.

5. When a member is injured, becomes seriously ill, or dies:

   Do not notify parents. In the event of a serious accident or illness, the medical personnel will notify parents and advise them of the student’s physical condition. In the event of a death, the appropriate school or fraternity/sorority official should notify parents; this will be in consultation with university officials.
If the situation is a death outside the house, do not announce it until a fraternity staff member or official has arrived to help. Be very careful about this information. If the member or new member was living in the house, do not move any of the deceased student’s personal possessions. Since most members share a room, perhaps you will want to move the roommate somewhere else temporarily. Only with the permission and instruction of your National Office should you call the family to offer them sympathy on behalf of the chapter. Ask what their wishes are in regard to the possessions. You may offer to pack them in boxes, but chances are the parents will prefer to do this themselves. Before they arrive, be sure that all borrowed items are returned to the student’s room, and if possible, lock it. When the parents do arrive, you may want to have empty boxes available and offer help. This is an emotional trauma for parents so they may not want to be with any of their child’s friends.

It is, of course, proper to send sympathy cards and notes, flowers, etc. If a funeral is not too distant, it would mean a great deal to parents for some of the members to attend. Check your ceremony manual for the memorial ritual, and offer it to the parents in advance of final arrangements.

6. If a member attempts suicide:

NEVER CALL THE PARENTS!!! In the event of an attempted suicide without serious injury, do not assemble the chapter or inform the membership. It should be held quietly with respect for the members. Contact the chapter advisor, inter/national organization, and the Office of Fraternity and Sorority Life. Always remember to REPORT REPORT REPORT! This is not just for you or your chapter but for the individual who may be in need.

In the event of an attempted suicide with serious injury follow the guidelines provided under serious injury.

All of this, no doubt, seems grim and harsh. Everyone hopes that no chapter president will ever have to use these procedures. But sadly, that hope is not realistic. Tragedies do occur. Usually, they are unpredictable. You can ease the situation for all by being prepared to follow these procedures and guidelines. Remember you are not alone in any of these situations; university officials are here to help you.

Reporting an Incident or Crisis

Chapter members have a responsibility to promptly report all incidents that could result in an insurance claim. Prompt reporting often can prevent minor incidents from developing into major problems.

What facts should I gather?

- What happened?
- Who was involved? Include any witnesses.
- When did the events take place (specific time and date)?
- What events (if any) led up to this happening? Create a timeline of events.
- Where did this occur?
- Why did this occur?
- How did this occur?
- List any property damage.
- Nature of injuries.

What type of incidents should be reported?

- Any incident that caused or contributed to an injury, death, or violation of University policy.
- Any demand for compensation, whether verbal or written.
- Any lawsuits or subpoenas served on you or your chapter by an officer of the court.
- Any contacts by an attorney or investigator asking about an occurrence that happened at the chapter facility or that involved chapter members.
- Your national organization may require that you complete specific forms. Do this as soon as possible while the facts are still fresh in members’ minds.

How do I report any incidents or crisis to the University?

- Incident Reporting Form
  - This report should be completed in the event there is a policy or behavioral related concern pertaining to a Recognized Student Organization (RSO) at Missouri S&T. Policy compliance may pertain to the RSO Policy, Standard of Conduct for Student Organizations, Social Guidelines, Constitution and By-laws for Interfraternity Council and/or Panhellenic Council, (Inter)National policies and procedures, or any federal, state, or local law.

What do I do after I report?

- Do not admit responsibility or liability in any accident or occurrence.
- Never discuss an incident with an attorney or investigator without clearance from your national headquarters.
- Appoint one spokesman (usually the chapter president) to handle any questions from outsiders about the occurrence.
- Instruct the chapter members not to discuss the incident with anyone outside of the Fraternity/ Sorority or the University.
