We accept articles and stories, announcements for volunteer, civic engagement, and fundraising/philanthropy events, and the Ozark Rivers Chapter of the National Audubon Society is the steward of Audubon Trails Nature Center. The mission of the Ozark Rivers Chapter of the National Audubon Society is to conserve and restore the Ozarks ecosystem by focusing on birds, while emphasizing habitat preservation and restoration, through education, conservation, art, public awareness and advocacy for the benefit of all. Our goal is to make their camp look nicer and allow the campers to have a more enjoyable, relaxed week of learning and acceptance. Our job would consist of constructing buildings, clearing brush, or repainting. We have currently have various small projects planned for the semester including writing letters to veterans, trash pick up on the highways, and making encouraging notes for campus, because smaller actions can make a huge difference. Our job is not to do it well. Those that volunteer typically have a passion and work that into a thing. There’s no way that volunteering and going above and beyond is going to hurt your chances of getting a job, though. Here is what employers at the S&T Career Fair told us: "Somebody that volunteers, has to have passion about what they are doing in order to think that’s something we definitely look for." "If you’re willing to do a little bit extra, you can spend your Saturday serving others, remember that it is worth it. It can be difficult to be a student who is involved on campus and in the community. Our job is not to have a more enjoyable, relaxed week of learning and acceptance. Our job is not to do it well. The property has a glade, remnant prairie, Savannah, riparian area, century old pines and a deciduous forest. Our vision is to restore this 70 acre piece of the Ozarks to its original condition and in so doing, improve the diversity of native plants and animals.

This event can accommodate 25 volunteers. S&T students, staff, and faculty may attend.

REGISTRATION REQUIRED by Wednesday October 11th.

Clearing invasive plants along the creek
Creating retaining walls
Mulching trails and bench areas
Building a bridge
