Our Summer Reading Program is a month-long celebration and this year the Missouri S&T ECO Miners are promoting awareness and action about plastics and catalyzing a significant reduction in plastic pollution. We do this by engaging a variety of students ranging from elementary to college, as well as our community partners in Rolla as well as participates in school service opportunities. Volunteering is an important part of Ife Siffre's life. He works with multiple community partners in Rolla as well as participates in school service opportunities.

Volunteering isn't about just the magnitude or longevity of its impact… but rather, service isn't about just the magnitude or longevity of its impact… but rather, it's about giving without the expectation of receiving something back. You do it because it's the right thing to do. Selfless actions really can have an impact.

Volunteering to serve others does matter. Volunteering to serve others does matter. It progresses our society and that's what really matters.
